Resources & Recommendations

About

This is a guide of all the resources, books, courses and products that I recommend. There are also some discount codes for you as well.

Everything has a live link, so you can just click what you are interested in to find out more information.

If you make a purchase using my affiliate links, I may get a small commission (at no extra cost to yourself).

Thank you for supporting and honouring the time it takes to research amazing products.

Books

If you would like to do some further reading, these are the books I can highly recommend.

Breath

Activate Your Vagus Nerve

It Didn't Start With You

The Body Keeps The Score

How To Do The Work

Beyond Behaviours

Brain-Body Parenting

When The Body Says No

Patches

Phototherapy Patching

Phototherapy patching has been life-changing for my family and I.

I love them because -

- you don't have to swallow more pills or supplements
- they're easy to get kids to use
- they're easy to control the dose take them on and off as you need them
- they work beautifully with the nervous system, meridian system, and your overall health
- there are patches for LITERALLY EVERYTHING
- (quite possibly my favourite) there are always unexpected benefits, when your body works better, you notice other things clear up that you may have thought were "just you"

Pulsetto

Pulsetto Device for Vagus Nerve Stimulation

This portable, wearable device stimulates your vagus, electrically.

See my review here. Shop here.

Use the code: Carrie for 10% off the Pulsetto.

Z-Vibe

Vibratory Therapy

The Z-Vibe is a very clever little vibratory therapy tool that can help stimulate the sensory system, and can also build oral tone. You can use it to improve a variety of speech, sensory and feeding skills.

You can also purchase the different attachments, and use it on the chest to calm down the stress response (my kids love it right before bed!).
